THE NEW YARDS.

I. C. Expects to Move to Them
About November 8

Railroad Men Advised to Use Telephones for Being Called.

The Illinois Central expects to re-occupy its new yards beyond the city about November 8. The yards have been in course of construction for several weeks, and are the largest in this end of the state, having accommodation for 500 or more cars.

In addition a new office building has been erected for the general yard master and dispatchers, and it is also ready for occupancy.

Trainmaster J. J. Flynn has suggested to railroad men that they put telephones in their residences for the purpose of being called, as the new yards will place them beyond calling distances. The telephones cost very little, and it is probable that the railroad men will profit by the suggestion, while they do not have to put them in.

CLARKS CONVICTED.

Killers of Burlington Receive Two Years Penitentiary Sentence.

HARDWELL, Ky., Oct. 30.—The trial of Tom Clark and his wife, who killed a man named his long time here, was ended yesterday. Clark and his wife were sentenced to the penitentiary for the term of two years. Considerable excitement prevailed during the trial, as the parties were prominent citizens. Attorneys for the defense and prosecution addressed the jury all day Thursday, turning the case over to them late that evening. The jury was two days and nights in reaching the above dict, which is considered light.

GIRL TAKEN AWAY.

Last evening a young girl about 20 years old was brought to the city hospital. She had a chill, and had been traveling with a man claiming to be an Indian medicine doctor. They traveled from Indian Territory to a wagon, and came here from Ohio.

Steward McKinney was fixing things for her reception when her mother, who was also traveling in the wagon, came and signified her intentions of remaining with her. The doctor departed, as he had no work, and the woman took the daughter in her arms and held her away, and her whereabouts are now unknown.

SURRENDERED

The English Garrison, Say.
One Report, Lets Boers
Into Ladysmith.

ANOTHER INDICATES BATTLE

In Which the Britons are Able to Battle Attacking Boers.

MANY CONTRADICTORY REPORTS

LADYSMITH, Oct. 30.—The battle of Ladysmith has begun. The Boers opened with artillery fire on the British camp. After seven shots had been fired the British silenced the Boer guns. The Boers are now advancing on the British left flank.

CAPE TOWN, Oct. 30.—A British prisoner who escaped from Boers reports the Boers gave a "snooker" in favor of the British prisoners and joined them in singing "God Save the Queen."

LONDON, Oct. 30.—A dispatch from Ladysmith, sent before the fighting began, gives definite information regarding the position of the Boers and the British troops. Then, White is at Ladysmith with the main body of British Gen. Buller is at Bulwer's Kop, a few miles to the east, with five battalions of infantry and six battalions of artillery and considerable cavalry. The British cavalry forces is moving out to the southeast and southwest to defeat the Boers as they come off the British retreat southward.

Gen. Buller's force is the Boers general, Lord Meyer with two thousand men. At Matwans Kop, to north and to west on Hart's road are seven hundred Free State troops with guns. Together with main column of eight hundred Boers was advancing from the northwest down the railroad when the dispatch was sent. The Boers are evidently waiting for the British to advance before beginning the attack.

BERLIN, Oct. 30.—According to a report received here from Transvaal concerning the entire British force at Ladysmith has surrendered.

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 30.—The Boers have been harassing the British under Major MacKenzie and Colonel Rhodes. Having assessed the number of the enemy the British were ordered to retire to Tulsa, about twenty miles north.

DESPERATION AT PRINCETON.

Quebec Judge Keeps Republican Off the Ballot.

PRINCETON, Ky., Oct. 30.—In the trial here Saturday of the information suit of J. W. Hollingsworth against County Clerk Pastore, an unpopular decision was rendered by Judge Nunn, a Democrat and partisan of the Good ticket. The suit was to prevent the county clerk from placing on the ballot the name of Judge W. L. Randolph, the Republican nominee for representative from this district.

The motion taken to keep the name of the Republican nominee off the ballot is regarded here as a very desperate measure, and it has become the talk of the town. So strong is the sentiment against the proceeding that an immediate appeal to the court of appeals will be taken.

Every motion and all the testimony offered by Judge Randolph seemed completely ignored in the proceedings.

Not only among the Republicans is the incident taken with ill grace, but by the citizens generally, and not a few Goodites are displeased at the turn of affairs.

If the name of Judge Randolph is not on the ballot, support will be given to H. Clay Hunter, the Popular nominee.

EUROPEANS FIGHT CANNIBALS

The Former Were Able to Stay
Many of the Latter.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—Mail advices tell of a brief battle in Congo, between two Europeans, members of a party under direction of Captain Mohou, former United States consul at Zanzibar, assisted by three companies of Belgian troops, and a group of native cannibals. The resulting rifles of the Europeans did fatal execution. Losses of the enemy are estimated at three hundred killed and six hundred wounded.
The Belgians lost nine killed and 42 wounded.

NEED NO MARSHALS.

Kentucky Elections to Pass On Without Any Trouble.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Oct. 30.—There will be no federal interference in the Kentucky election. United States Marshal A. D. James authorized this statement, though it is admitted the attention of the department of justice has been directed toward Kentucky. While no marshals are to be appointed, it is still asserted that secret service officers will be on hand at every county seat in the state and any evidence of intimidation will be reported to the federal courts.

The significance of Marshal James' statement, that deputy marshals will not be called out, it is said, is that the conclusion has been reached by both the Federal Government and Republicans that no serious trouble is likely to occur, and that in Louisville, Lexington and Newport, where trouble was most feared, a reasonable fair election is now believed to be assured.

In addition to this, Governor Hatcher, it is known, is thoroughly awake to the situation in all the towns of the state and is taking every precaution to prevent trouble. It is asserted that the Louisville Legion, the crack military regiment of the state, is under orders for active service and will be called out if there is any sort of disorder in Louisville.

of receiving stolen goods, and his

The man is married and has two children, according to the report received here. Nothing was seen of

WONDERFUL CAVE

Marionettes Submerged in Chambers Near R. R. Tunnel.

ROSE HILL, Ill., Oct. 30.—A party being organized here to thoroughly explore the recently discovered cave situated about ten miles west of here, in what is known as the "Sink-hole" district. The cave was discovered accidentally by hunters in pursuit of wild game. Its entrance is reached by passing down a wild rocky ravine, but to get to the bottom of the cave a rope ladder must be used, as the distance is about twenty feet.

The cave, so far, has only been explored to the extent of about five miles, and is found to contain a succession of wonderful caverns, chambers, lakes, domes and other marvels.
One chamber is about 250 feet long, 40 feet wide, 30 feet high, the ceiling of which is composed of black gypsum, and is studded with innumerable white points that by a dim light resemble stars.

There is also a running stream of clear water passing through the cave, which is alive with blind fish. Several were caught and placed on exhibition here, but only lived a few days.
They were of a dark grayish color.

FRED STEWART CASE.

It Went to Trial in Circuit Court
This Morning.

The damage suit of Fred Stewart against the Illinois Central railroad for $25,000 went to trial in the circuit court this morning, and the jury was sequestered before noon. The case will probably consume several days.
Stewart, it will be remembered, was a switchman in the yards here, and fell off the switch engine and had both legs cut off. The case was tried in the spring and he secured a verdict for $10,000, but the defendants got a new trial.

Mrs. Nancy Brune, who lost her suit against the railroad for $100 for killing her cow this morning made a motion for a new trial, which has not been settled.

VICE PRESIDENT HOBART.

Was Quite Ill Last Night and Today is Only Slightly Better.

PATERSON, N. J., Oct. 30.—The condition of Vice President Hobart, who has been ill for several weeks, took a serious turn last night. His physicians were hastily summoned and labored with the patient all night.
The faculty remained at the bedside all this morning when Mr. Hobart was slightly better.

Vice President Hobart's physician said this afternoon: "I consider Mr.
Hobart is very low, but believe we can pull him through. Do not consider there is any immediate danger of a serious turn. He is conscious."

Reports that Mr. Hobart was dying, circulated freely about the city this morning, caused great excitement.

publican candidate for governor, Judge George Denny, of Lexington, and Hon. W. R. Ransyer, of London, from Beattyville to Clay county on Saturday, aboard a special train on the Lexington & Eastern railway, was an occasion of continuous and remarkable enthusiasm. The meeting at Beattyville, which began as early as 5 o'clock in the morning and continued until about noon, was one of the largest and most enthusiastic of the campaign.

At way stations along the line as the special came toward Clay City, where even no meeting had been advertised and where the train had not been scheduled to stop, there were remarkable gatherings of people, all anxious to see the coming governor and party pass through, although they knew it was impossible for him to stop or speak to them. The gatherings at the stations where stops and speechmaking were scheduled were large, unusually so, and the enthusiasm was intense. This section will be heard from decisively November 7.

MONDAY, OCT. 30, 1899.

The counting room of the Louisville Courier-Journal is now clearly doing duty at the tripped end. The Goebel ticket is being supported with a grand flourish just at present.

Europe is discussing the intervention of the United States in the Transvaal war as a matter of probability. The talk is no doubt without any justification except the wish of some nations who fear the war may spread.

Governor Bradley will start from Ashland next Thursday morning on a special train for a speaking tour of two days' duration through Eastern and Central Kentucky. He will be accompanied by several other speakers. The schedule calls for eighteen speeches from the governor.

Sensational stories relative to the election will benefit this week. They will, like all, be aimed to intimidate and mislead and should be discounted by the thoughtful from the facts stated. Election lies are some parties' stock in trade, but they never catch sensible people.

Hon. J. C. S. Blackburn continues to amuse himself writing letters. His latest are epistles of thanks to the speakers who came from other states to denounce their political reputations by trying to help foster Goebel upon Kentucky. The ex-senator had, therefore, still doing a job badly.

Senator Goebel is a special pleasure, as late in his promises as he is dishonest in his argument. The issue in Kentucky is not between himself and the Louisville and Nashville railroad, but between himself and the people. The question is whether popular will, as expressed at the polls, shall control the administration of public affairs in the state or be usurped by himself as the head of a corrupt and self-aggrandizing oligarchy.

Desperate and unscrupulous, a buffed adventurer consumed by ambition and blinded by the avarice of personal advancement, Goebel would seize upon suffrage as a booty of the high way and overthrow the ballot. Will the people of Kentucky permit themselves to be pilfered of their most sacred right—the free expression of their political preference at the polls? Thousands and thousands of patriots say no, and no it will be.

No greater calamity can fall on any people, in punishment for sin or a visitation of misfortune, than that such an influence as is embodied in the personality of William Goebel should be fastened in indelible domination upon their institutions of government. Will the people of Kentucky let such a calamity overtake them by fidelity to a party which would foster such a nominee? The Sun does not believe they will.

"The light of a Kentucky vote to vote as he pleases," says Senator Lindsay, "and to have his vote received and counted as the casts it, is far more important to him than the settlement of any of the national issues dividing the people of the United States. Whether he is to have that right is the question to be decided in November. This is the vital issue of the state canvass. A vote willing to lose this interest? If not vote against Goebellism the 7th prox.

NEWS NOTES.

The Cuban General Lafont says he needs the money, but refuses a good job because he can't take the oath of fidelity to the United States.

The Pennsylvania railroad has just given contracts for 100,000 tons of steel rails for delivery next year. The price is said to be $33 a ton, which is a advance of $14 a ton over the prices paid for rails for delivery during the current year.

The Pennsylvania company and the New York Central railroad have placed orders for coal and freight cars, the aggregate cost of which will be about $12,000,000.

Baxter Powell, aged 22, committed suicide at Lagrange, Ky., by shooting. The deed was due to despondency caused by the recent death of his niece.

The German emperor is not meeting with success in his efforts to secure a new cabinet. Herr Stomper, a banker, has declined the position of minister of finance, and Herr Thieden has refused the public works portfolio, because their present positions are more lucrative.

A committee has started from Nashville to invite Admiral Dewey, Rear Admiral Schley and Adjutant General Coburn to visit that city and participate in the welcome to be given the First Tennessee regiment upon its return from the Philippines.

Some of the Louisville and Nashville railroad may have wrought, in extortions and repression of competing rivals, it is a virtuous comparison to the crushing, corroding, corrupting vice of Goebellism.

has been an agent of mischief bent on the people of Kentucky in the development of his vast resources and in the opening up and civilizing of her otherwise isolated sections.

Conversely, the whole influence of William Goebel, whether great or small, has been cast upon the side of commercial contraction and educational repression. He is the instinctive enemy of civil liberty, business development of the state's vast resources.

Of the two evils, the people prefer the clear after the fall of the ballots next week.

THE DIE IS CAST.

The real personal contention in the Kentucky campaign is between Senator Goebel and General Taylor. The political contention is between the Democratic and Republican parties, the discredited candidate of a debauched and divided Democracy, and the Republican party, supported and sustained by a mass of voters and a mass of voters in the preservation of an honest ballot.

There can be no question of the result. General Taylor, who represents the people, who stands for honesty in politics as well as in business, who advocates an administration of public affairs upon a plane of popular representation and for the benefit of the state, will be endorsed by the people—a united Republican party and a large element of law-loving, freedom-respecting, Goebel-condemning Democrats.

General Taylor will be elected; Senator Goebel will be defeated; and that General Taylor is confident and Senator Goebel is not.

Kentucky will not be lost to prosperity, to peaceful government, to respectability; but will be saved by honest and patriotic voters. The die is cast.

Alex Abbott, charged with the murder of his wife in 1895, was acquitted at Morehead, Ky., Saturday. On three previous trials he had been convicted, the court of appeals reversing the case in every instance.

Emperor William wants an enormous increase made in the German navy to make it the equal of any sea force ever built of England.

The Mexican troops have driven the Yngui Indians back into the mountains and no more fighting is expected for some time.

BRADLEY'S PLEA

For Taylor and the Future Republican Ticket.

OUR GOVERNOR IN ACTION.

He Urges All Lovers of Liberty to Work Harmoniously.

SHOWS UP VILE GOEBEL LAW

And Ably Defends His Administration From Vicious Democratic Attacks.

DEFINES THE NEGRO QUESTION.

The Present Is the First State Administration to Recognize in the Deceitful and Intelligent Colored Citizens a Person Entitled to Assist in the Affairs of Government—Issues of the Hour Exhaustively Reviewed in a Blazing Address by Kentucky's Chief Executive.

The Auditorium in Louisville, with a seating capacity of 4,000, was densely crowded on the night of the 19th to hear Governor Bradley make his initial speech in this campaign. He defended his administration from the attacks made upon it in the Democratic platform and press, denounced the Goebel law, and urged all lovers of liberty in this time of danger to their rights as freemen to lay aside personal feelings and partisan prejudices and vote for Taylor and the Republican ticket. The immense outburst of applause which greeted this passage and this mention of Taylor's name showed how near Governor Bradley had come to the popular heart. The governor was in excellent vein and held his audience for two hours, and his speech was a triumphal vindication of Republican rule. Applause was so frequent and hearty that he had several times to ask the people to restrain their enthusiasm and give him more time to talk. His full speech would fill nearly our whole paper, and we give only the principal passages. Introduced by Judge Wheeler McGee in a short and appropriate address, he began as follows:

For the first time in my experience, it has become necessary in a state where the people are so intelligent and so patriotic, to import distinguished leaders from other states. These distinguished leaders, I believe, have almost without exception, admitted their conscience as far as state issues are concerned, and yet they are here to teach the people how to vote. Have they come to supply the void that exists because Carlisle, Lindsay, Brockton, and the rest of the Democratic leaders, who were once leaders in the state, have been driven into the hands of the Louisville ticket?

Or have they come to break the force of the great moral law which has been established by the people of this state, and to oppose to the Louisville ticket?

What is all the clamor howling on each side, when you are told that the facts abroad are many millions more than we have before; that we have nearly 50 per cent more gold and more than $4 per capita in the treasury than we had when Mr. Bryan was nominated for president; that we have passed through a financial panic, without disturbing the financial standard; that the farmers are obtaining the good prices for their stock and produce, and that all the dire prophecies made by free silver orators in 1895, have long since vanished?

Neither will I weary your patience discussing the great eastern problem. I am at this time not interested in the freedom of the Philippines, but in the freedom of the people of this state.

In view of the assaults which have been made upon the administration, and especially upon the governor, by the Louisville Democratic platform, and the press and speakers advocating the same, it will not be considered improper that I should say a word in reply.

Cry of Political Pharisees.

Now and then, some political Pharisee, with eyes turned toward heaven, and hands clasped in prayer, will utter a word of protest against the administration of the governor, and will say that he is a source of profound thankfulness to other men who are doing better than he.

One unacquainted with the facts would suppose that the Republican leaders had looted the treasury and trampled upon the rights of the people.

At the outset, these gentlemen might be reminded that it is not disreputable for any man to have principles and dare to maintain them. Among the Republicans of Kentucky are gentlemen who, in point of intelligence, patriotism, culture and social position, will compare with any who belong to any other party in this state.

Terms of reproach should not be hurled at the Kentucky administration by its enemies, but should be hurled at the Louisville Democratic platform, and the press and speakers advocating the same.

Had the Louisville Democratic platform been adopted, the state would have been a scene of lawlessness and anarchy. The Louisville Democratic platform is a platform of lawlessness and anarchy.

all-time foundation of truth.

There was never a moment in my life that my enemies did not go out to the people as against any opposition of organized wealth. Having, during the term of 1892, suffered from the struggle with poverty, it would be impossible for me to turn a deaf ear to the cry of the poor.

I have never been inspired by the principle of the soldier, who, during the civil war, inquired of a comrade who was being killed, "What are you doing?" and being answered in the affirmative, exclaimed, "Get right down here and let's play for who will live."

I have never believed that the corporation should be allowed to plunder the people, or that it should be allowed to take one cent from the pocket of the people, or that it should be allowed to take one cent from the pocket of the people.

Corporations have rendered possible the present splendid position of this country among the nations of the world. They have constructed railroads, telegraph and steamship lines, and have created a vast system of commerce, thereby giving employment to millions of people; they have enabled the farmer to sell his crops at a profit, and the soldier and seaman who have won the most exalted position in our history, to have a comfortable home and a good education.

In making it the richest and most progressive of nations, they have given us the blessings of this nation, and assisted in making it the richest and most progressive of nations.

one and expense of litigation only to have his case thrown out of court because of the unconstitutionality of the law under which it had been instituted.

State Institutions.

The governor then gave a careful and comprehensive statement of the operations of the penitentiaries, and the charitable institutions under Republican administration as compared with similar periods under Democratic administration, and showed by incontrovertible official facts and figures that they had never been managed at less cost or with more efficiency than under Republican administration.

For nearly 100 years, he said to the shame of the commonwealth, Kentucky failed to provide a place for her juvenile offenders. For nearly 100 years children were confined with old hardened criminals in the same institutions, and the result was a terrible estimate of the terrible effects of such a system.

It remained for a Republican governor to urge the erection of houses of reform, and under a Republican administration, the state has provided for such buildings; and on the 1st of November next this institution will be open to receive the wayward children of the state.

The School and State Finances.

The governor explained how, owing to the operations of law, and the falling of the stock market, the Democratic hard times, the school per capita had been less than in 1895, when the Democrats put it at 2.50 for campaign purposes. However, the per capita for this year is $2.70, and then he continued:

Owing to the bank tax decision of the United States court, there was included in this estimate only $50,000 taxes to be derived from state banks, and not the $1,000,000 taxes now omitted. In this way there was omitted from the estimate $1,000,000 collected from the banks, and the result was that the estimate for campaign purposes, omitting the revenue for the year 1895, was $1,000,000 less than the actual revenue for 1895, the declared per capita would have been $2.92.

ever they were asked for, and he vindicated his action in calling troops to Frankfort during the legislative session of 1896.

Miscellaneous.

The governor took credit for securing a monument to the Kentucky soldiers at Chickamauga, while a Democratic administration had neglected to do so. He made some fun about the bicycle bill and the double-header bill, and he showed how a Democratic legislature, instead of helping to better the affairs of the state, had deliberately hampered and obstructed his efforts in that direction.

Speaking of the negroes, he said:

The negroes.

The present is the first state administration to recognize in the deserving and intelligent negro a person entitled to assist in the affairs of government. You have doubtless heard of "negro doctors" in the lucrative business of medicine. In one month they will attempt to persuade the negro that there are his friends, and that in their efforts to help him, they are doing him wrong. In the next month they will attempt to play on the prejudice of the whites by telling them of the horrible outrages that have been committed by putting "negro doctors" in the hospitals, and that they are doing him wrong.

NEWS BUTCH ARRESTED.

He Said He Did Not Have the Pocket Book, But Did.

Preston Hartle, a news "butcher" on the St. Louis division of the I. C., was arrested Saturday afternoon on a charge of grand larceny.

On the train was W. J. Sowden, of Birmingham, Ky., who has a pocket book containing $22.75 in all. He was leaving the train he dropped it, but soon missed it and went back.

Inspector Elmore had seen the butch pick up something, but thought it was a paper.

When confronted the butch denied finding the money, saying that he picked up a paper. Officer Tomlin was present and advised him to give it up if he had it, but the butch still protested that he did not. He was then started for the lockup, and about three blocks further gave up the money, and was taken on to prison and the charge of grand larceny lodged against him.

The case was tried before Judge Sanders this morning, and the defendant declined to testify. He was held to answer in the sum of $200. A. Hartle claims St. Louis as his home.

The Lunderman Arrested by Officers Houser and Adams.

The Lunderman, colored, was arrested last night by Officers Houser and Adams, on a charge of robbery.

Frank Pullen, according to the information the officers received, dropped a pocket book on the floor of "Need more" church, on Harrison street. Lunderman is alleged to have picked it up, but the officers could not get him to give it up.

A ten dollar bill alleged to be the same lost by Pullen was found at Lunderman's grocery, where it had been spent by a woman alleged to have received it from Lunderman.

The case was set for tomorrow in the police court by Judge Sanders.

THE "ILLINOIS" CANAL.

The campaign for a deep waterway from Lake Michigan to the Mississippi river was begun in 1817. It took on definite form in 1872. In the deep waterway convention held in various western cities up to 1887 the plan to construct a ship canal from Chicago to the Illinois river or to the Mississippi was considered favorable. The proposition then was for the government to build the whole canal and to improve the Illinois river without help from the city of Chicago or the state of Illinois. On this basis the proposition did not attract those interested in the deep waterway plan as in any way unfeasible.

In those days the favorite scheme was for a ship canal from Rock Island on the Mississippi river to Hennepin or La Salle on the Illinois, and the widening and deepening of the Illinois and Michigan canals. This scheme was rejected favorably by the transportation committees of the house and senate. Later, the proposition most in favor was for a deep waterway channel from Chicago to the Illinois river and for the deepening of that river to the Mississippi. This proposition found more favor than the other because of the depth of water in the Mississippi below St. Louis. The whole movement was as much in favor of the river and valley towns of Chicago, and at that time there was a concerted movement to promote the deep waterway project.

Lately, Chicago, at her own expense, had cut a deep waterway—a "cut" or "canal"—for more than half the distance to be covered by rail. This had been done without expense to the national government or to the valley or river towns. Therefore, the proposition is reduced to the completion or extension of the deep waterway from the terminus of the Chicago drainage canal.

The people of the west favor deep waterway communication between the great lakes and the Mississippi in the interest of the west and the nation. This makes it almost certain that the people of the Illinois valley and the Mississippi country, acting with Chicago, will secure a deep waterway from Lake Michigan to the Gulf some day.

The Longevity of Ministers. From the returns of the registration of Great Britain for some years past it has been conclusively shown that ministers of the gospel enjoy the highest average lease of life of any class of workers. This is, no doubt, due to two or three prominent causes, amongst which may be put their almost total immunity from risks of accident and death that attend certain trades and professions; their general habits of temperance, moderation and regularity as compared with most workers; and their daily exercise, study, etc., which give a combination of mental and physical recreation of outdoor and indoor life, such as few other workers get, and which must prove beneficial to health. Out of forty hundred people in each class, forty ministers, forty farmers, thirty-four teachers and twenty-four doctors live to the age of seventy.

Captain John Rollins, of this city, is now in command of the towboat Beaver.

The wreck of the once famous steamer Pacific, which was burned at Paducah, Ky., in 1860, is now visible. The hull is now lying about one mile below Paducah, where it is fast and settled in a bar. It appears to be in a good state of preservation, although it has been 39 years since the Pacific was lost, and many lives were absorbed, among them being Captain Wm. Lamb, who gave up his life in trying to save others. The Pacific was a very large side-wheel steamer, and one of the finest boats that ever floated. Her hull is above water now in plain view, lying perfectly straight, and parallel to the river.

The Rollins left this morning at 10 o'clock for Evansville with a heavy load trip.

The J. B. Richardson departed for Cairo on prompt time this morning. She had a pretty start.

The Benckman, now on the way, will be let in the river this week. She looks like a new boat, and her owner is much pleased with the work. She would pass easily for a yearling.

Captain Crouch thinks that his boat the Charleston will be ready to come off the docks this week.

The W. J. Combs is due tomorrow from Tennessee river.

The City of Golden is due this evening from Golden and Elton and leaves tomorrow on return trip. Heavy rains in the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers are reported. River men at Paducah are now quite hopeful of a rise.

A cable telegram says "Captain John C. Hinton, having purchased the engine, boiler and shaft of the steamboat Elk from Captain Frank Cassidy, returned to St. Louis this evening. The machinery will be shipped later to Chattanooga, La."

The Louisville Courier-Journal of this day says: "The Indiana state in the southwest is the only one in the river above the dam, this side of the Kentucky line."

Business still continues active in river circles. Increased only on account of low water.

Clara E. Marryan, Mrs. Francis McLennan, died in London. She was a daughter of the famous Captain Frederick Marryat, of the British navy, whose services of the sea have endeared the younger readers of the whole English-speaking world, and she surpassed even her father in the measure of success attained by her writings. Late in life she embraced spiritualism and wrote three books in advocacy of the belief. These productions, which shared in some degree the wide reading given her romances, were entitled "There Is No Death," "The River Dead" and "Spirit World."

St. Louis has an old time fables contest Thursday. The T. P. A.'s have started.

Saturday night in Chicago Jeff Thorne of England was knocked out by Bob Fitzsimmons in one minute of fighting. Thorne was evidently very much afraid of Fitzsimmons. He did not land a single blow. The blow delivered by Fitzsimmons was a short left jab on Thorne's jaw.
